What a sail from start to finish the excitement was there. Thanks to Stan for showing us a beautifully executed man overboard drill 7 minutes before the start and for Sophie how to bring your man back on board in two minutes flat. If that wasn't fun a wind shift also helps in making a start more fun as boats were ready to make their run on the start line. In all this Shadow Dance was doing multiple 360's as if this was the new way to sail across the start line. We later learned that the jib sheet had got caught in the self-tailing winch nicely and Craig was doing a tailor appendectomy under sail. Then Morning Star came tearing out of the harbour having seen all the excitement and wanting to join the fun 13 minutes after the race had started and yes shadow dance was still doing 360's.

By the first mark Barnacle thought they would go for a tour of the lake first before coming all the way back to C mark and rounding it behind Anonymous I guess they were still in holiday mode after sailing around the lake all week long. Off in the distance one could see Lorna Doone launching her spinnaker and of course the wind picked up very nicely and one could see Lorna Doone screaming into Carthew Bay.

The wind in this race was definitely the excitement as it went up and down and shifted all over the place as we saw at the finishing line. One would make the approach only to be veered off slowly to port or starboard depending on mother nature's mood at that moment making for some interesting finishes.

After all that work it took everybody much longer to amble around to the club house as I'm sure we were all exhausted from that sail. Again many thanks to the race committee and for doing the score keeping and pulling together such a fanciful feast for us.
